A NEWCASTLE GRAMMAR SCHOOL PUBLICATION

BULLETIN 5

Dear Parents

Mr Philip Goldsworthy recently resigned from his position as Principal of Bishop Tyrrell Anglican College (BTAC). Philip was the founding Principal of BTAC and has led the School for eleven years. Philip is leaving for personal reasons and on behalf of the NGS community, I would like to wish both he and his wife, Deb, all the very best for the next chapter of their lives and thank them for their contribution to the education of children in the Hunter Region. It is also worth noting that Philip was the Director of Studies at Newcastle Grammar School in the 1990s.

I have been asked by the Bishop of Newcastle to take on the role of Executive Principal of BTAC in the interim and the Board of NGS has supported the School's involvement. My initial involvement with BTAC will be through to the end of this year. I will be assisting the College's Deputy Principal, Ms Leanne Jackson as the College continues to provide the best possible education for the students in its care.

While we are assisting our friends at BTAC, I will be spending some time away from Newcastle Grammar School. To minimise disruption to NGS, Dr Rob McEwan as Deputy Headmaster will assume extra responsibilities. While communication with the School should always be with the relevant teacher or Head of School in the first instance, all enquires that would normally be referred to the Headmaster should still be directed to my office.
